

CORTLAND FREE LIBRARY

GIFT POLICY

The Library recognizes the great importance of gifts and donations to its development and growth. Without individual donation, the current library building would not exist. The library welcomes gifts of money, library materials, furnishings, or real property. These gifts are an important part of the library's resources.

Monetary contributions in the amount of $500 or more are added to the Library's Endowment Fund, which is administered by the Cortland Free Library Board of Trustees for the purchase of materials or programs not included in the operating budget.

Restricted gifts can be accepted only with the approval of the library board of trustees. All unrestricted gifts may be used, sold, or disposed of in the best interest of the library. Donations are accepted only if the library director and the board of trustees determine that acceptance is in the best interest of the library.

Gifts of cash, securities, real property and bequests that support the mission of the library will be handled by the library director who with the library board of trustees will work out terms of acceptance that are compatible with library policies, the donor's intent and any applicable laws.

Legacies and endowments left in trust of the board of Trustees shall be invested in the Cortland Free Library Endowment in accordance with the library's investment policy.

Unrestricted monetary gifts of less than $500.00 will be deposited in the Trustees Fund to be used at the discretion of the Library Board of Trustees.
